

STATE ELECTION LEADER MURPHY

Tammany Boss Replies to Recent Remarks of His Honor, the Mayor.

SAYS MCLELLAN IS FIBBER

TAKES SHOT AT M'CARREN AND O'BRIEN.

New York, Jan. 3.—Leader Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall today gave out a statement in regard to Mayor McClellan's action in refusing yesterday to reappoint Election Commissioner Voorhis as president of the board, the choice of the regular Democratic organization of New York. In appointing John C. Dooling to succeed Voorhis, the mayor took occasion to say that he would no longer "recognize the existing control of Tammany Hall," and that he could not "tolerate any relations with its present leader."

Replying to the mayor's criticism, Mr. Murphy said:

Unanimous for Voorhis.

"Although named in strict conformity with the provisions of law by the Democratic organization of the county of New York for the place and that, too, without a single dissenting vote, Commissioner Voorhis was rejected by the mayor simply because last fall, in the designation of the Democratic nominees to public office, the election board, Commissioner Voorhis refused to violate his oath of office and be a party to the satisfaction of the mayor's petty revenge on the newspapers which had harshly criticized him."

"As to the present leader of Tammany Hall, no man in the community has held closer relations with him nor does any one know him more thoroughly than this same mayor. If any reason exists which justifies the breaking of the relations which have existed between the two men, I do not know just what it may be, and I urge no mayor, if he knows, to make such reason public."

Defies the Mayor.

"I defy him to name a single instance in which I have been urged, on behalf of the Democratic organization, the appointment to public office of a man whose record and character would not compare favorably with his present appointees and intimates."

"With a single comment, I submit as a specimen of the mayor's regard for exactness of statement, the declaration of that officer: 'I have no candidate for the leadership of Tammany Hall, nor have I the least desire to involve myself with the aspirations of any one who is seeking such leadership.' How greatly deluded have been both press and public as to the purposes of the mayor's every political move since entering on his present term. Or else the mayor is guilty of most brazen falsehood."

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

"And so, too, I leave the community acquainted with the mayor's regard for exactness of statement, the declaration of that officer: 'I have no candidate for the leadership of Tammany Hall, nor have I the least desire to involve myself with the aspirations of any one who is seeking such leadership.' How greatly deluded have been both press and public as to the purposes of the mayor's every political move since entering on his present term. Or else the mayor is guilty of most brazen falsehood."

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

"And so, too, I leave the community acquainted with the mayor's regard for exactness of statement, the declaration of that officer: 'I have no candidate for the leadership of Tammany Hall, nor have I the least desire to involve myself with the aspirations of any one who is seeking such leadership.' How greatly deluded have been both press and public as to the purposes of the mayor's every political move since entering on his present term. Or else the mayor is guilty of most brazen falsehood."

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

Accuses McClellan of Spite.

SPEAKERSHIP IS IN DOUBT

Eight Idaho Statesmen Want to Wield the Gavel in the Lower House.

(Special to The Herald.)

Boise, Ida., Jan. 3.—There is no light on the speakership campaign, and leaders confess they are not able to make anything out of it. There are about eight candidates in the field, though one or two of them are rather receptive. Herman J. Rossie of Shoshone county is one of the latter class. It is understood he would not push the office from himself. Wyckoff Smith of Nez Perces is in about the same position. They are both here, as is A. H. Connor of Shoshone, an active candidate. S. D. Taylor, the remaining candidate from the north, has not arrived, but is expected in the morning. H. T. West of Cassia and Robert McCracken of Bligham are both on the ground. Both are looking for the place, as is Willard White of Ada. J. Frank Hunt of Bannock, who has been speaker during the past two sessions, has not arrived.

"There is a feeling that if the north should get together on one candidate it could have him selected. Perhaps there would be no serious opposition. Mr. Hunt is the strong man in the south. It is thought possible he would not insist if the north could unite upon an acceptable man, of those mentioned, Taylor seems to be the most available as the man to be put forward if united action on the part of the north can be brought about. However, this is a rather broad generalization, as there has not been sufficient crystallization of sentiment to warrant a positive statement."

CHAIRMAN BRADY ON HAND

Idaho Republican Boss at Boise to Direct the Members of the Legislature.

(Special to The Herald.)

Boise, Ida., Jan. 3.—Chairman James H. Brady of the state Republican committee arrived in Boise today. He will remain until after the legislature has elected a United States senator, and will probably be in Boise much of the time during the session. Seated in an easy chair in the headquarters, opened by Mr. Borah at the Ipanha hotel, Mr. Brady said this evening:

"Mr. Borah opened his headquarters here today, and at his suggestion I have very willingly taken charge, and will be here most of the time until after the senatorial election. While the election of Mr. Borah at United States senator is a formal matter, I want to show him that I am greatly interested in his election and I am here to assist him in any way I can. I am not here to interfere with the legislative process in any way. I think the Republicans in the legislature are all loyal men and will carry out the pledges of their party. One thing that the legislature should do and which I have no doubt will be done is to pass a primary law. Both parties were pledged to pass a primary election law and it was understood during the campaign that a direct primary law would be passed. The party must carry out its pledges and the members of the legislature will see that the duty is attended to."

During the session of the legislature the headquarters of the state Republican organization will be kept open.

SPICY DIVORCE CASE.

In Cross-Complaint Wife Charges Husband With a Second Marriage Without Securing Divorce.

Provo, Jan. 2.—There is quite a spicy divorce case in the fourth district court, at least it would be if the parties were millionaires.

Frederick Schaefer, a baker of this city, has filed suit for divorce against Carrie P. Schaefer on the ground of desertion, dating from Oct. 1, 1905. The parties were married at Ogden, May 8, 1902.

Defendant files an interesting answer and cross-complaint. She alleges that the plaintiff persuaded her to go to Ogden Oct. 1, 1905, when she was ill, in order that she might obtain better care. She alleges that she was induced to go by the promise of a large sum of money, and that she was then abandoned. She further charges failure to provide adequate support and maintenance, and that the plaintiff has been guilty of adultery and cohabitation with another woman.

Judge Booth reports that the term just ended in the fourth district court has been phenomenal in that no money was expended for jurors or witnesses fees.

A case against Charles Westrope, charging him with simple assault committed on Mrs. Lillie Brown, was set for a jury trial in Justice Noon's court. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty after five minutes after retiring.

Lida A. Drane of Ogden, a patient of the state mental hospital, committed from Ogden Feb. 23, 1905, died this morning from exhaustion. She was 34 years of age and blind. She has a father in Ogden. It is thought the burial will be here.

William Coray is expected here this afternoon from the San Luis valley, Colorado, with the remains of Mrs. Coray. The particulars of her death are not known. Mr. Coray is a son of John Coray of Salt Lake, and has resided in Colorado for some years.

David McMillan is down from Alberta, Canada, visiting relatives.

Nettie Bernhardt Crowther of American Fork has been granted a divorce from Henry M. Crowther on the ground of desertion. Plaintiff was granted the custody of two minor children. The parties intermarried in Salt Lake City Jan. 17, 1901.

Rev. R. H. Johnston of the M. E. church has gone to Milford, to be gone about ten days. On Sunday evening Dr. Byron W. King will give a Bible reading in the Methodist church.

The thermometer was down to 2 degrees above zero last night.

The receipts at the Provo postoffice for the year 1906 were $15,038.20, and during the year 1905 they were $14,891.49, a gain of $147.71. The normal gain is even greater.

The land office registration helped swell the receipts in 1905 some $400 above the local fund.

FUNERAL OF MISS MAY.

Nephi, Jan. 2.—The funeral of Miss Victorine May, graduate nurse, will be held on Friday, Jan. 4, at 1:30 o'clock, from the Second ward meeting house.

Nephi.

Miss May was born at Nephi, Feb. 13, 1882, and died Dec. 24, 1906.

SALT LAKE BOYS

Three Utah Youths Who Are Getting Industrial Education at Technical Institute.

SCORE MORE TO FOLLOW

HOW THE MEANS ARE PROVIDED.

Indianapolis, Jan. 2.—William Eckstein, the young Russian Jew who had been serving as mayor of Canyon Crest ranch, near Salt Lake, and two of his constituents, have entered the trade schools of Winona Technical Institute, in Indianapolis. The former mayor of the juvenile municipality, thirteen miles from Salt Lake, has taken up a three-year course of instruction in the school of lithography at the technical institute. Joe Krogh, one of the constituents of Canyon Crest ranch, is shoveling sand, making molds and doing white-hot metal out of the cupola of the school for iron moulders. Ray Wheeler, son of a Salt Lake City man, who preceded the other two boys to the technical institute by a few weeks, is well advanced in the school for tile setters, and in a few more months will be competent to set up a mantle, lay a tile floor or decorate a hearth in the finest home in Salt Lake.

The three boys are protégés of Judge Willis Brown, of the Salt Lake juvenile court, who made the arrangements for his charges to enter the trade schools here. The trio is the advance guard of twenty or twenty-five Salt Lake boys whom Judge Brown has placed in the institute during the coming year.

Will Pay for Tuition.

The three citizens of Canyon Crest ranch were not overawed when they learned that they had to pay for their education. But if each had had $10,000 in his pocket he would not have been more warmly welcomed by the authorities of the institute. When the boys entered the institute, they were each given a check for $100. These promises to pay were really checks on the institute's scholarship fund. The notes were undorsed. They run ten years, without interest. The boys are, therefore, on their honor to pay the money to the institute when they leave the trade schools and have gone to permanent employment. The money for the scholarships was subscribed by scores of men of means over the United States. As rapidly as money is repaid by a student, it becomes available to some other worthy boy who wants to learn a trade. The Winona Technical Institute is to a large degree a philanthropic institution to advance the welfare of young men. The school where young Eckstein is receiving instruction was established by the National Lithographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to provide scholarships for thirty boys. It also gives $10,000 to the printing office. The National Foundry association gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery. The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery. The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

The school where Ray Wheeler is learning to set type was established by the National Typographers' association, which gives $3,000 a year to the school where Krogh is learning his trade, and equipped it with about $10,000 worth of machinery.

DIRTY DAUGHTER

OF FAMOUS DUKE

Marquise de Morny Reviled by Audience While on the Stage in Indecent Play.

Paris, Jan. 3.—There was a remarkable scene at the notorious Moulin Rouge when the Marquise de Morny, a daughter of the famous Duke de Morny and a niece of Napoleon III., made her debut in an act called "A Dream of Egypt," written by herself in collaboration with Madame Gauthier-Villars, author of "Claudine," and other